FOR THE ALUMNI AND FRIENDS OF SAINT JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

VOL. 26 - NO. 30

Rensselaer, Indiana

MAY, 1966

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE ALUMNI AND PARENT'S ASSOC. HONORS REV. CHAS. H. BANET - APRIL 17 - MCCORMICK PL.

"Certainly, during my first year as President of Saint Joseph's I have found that this college has all the necessary ingredients for greatness, thanks to the prayers and loyal support of its many friends — the administration, faculty, students, alumni, trustees, Fellows, and other patrons. It's a true challenge to personify Saint Joseph's — and a challenge I'm proud to accept."

Thus Father Charles Banet, C.P.P.S., summed up the first year of his administration in his speech at the second annual President's Dinner at Chicago's McCormick Place before an audience of more than 400 alumni, parents, students, trustees and friends.

The above appeared on Mr. W. M. Gage's Magikist Marquee at the intersection of Cicero Avenue and Eisenhower Expressway in Chicago.

Charles Vietzen, vice president of the Alumni Association, and Hugh McAvoy, member of the alumni Board of Directors and co-chairman of this very successful event, were also co-chairmen of the committee responsible for the presentation of 14 Chicago area alumni as Fellows of the college.

Hugh McAvoy, speaking for this committee, the Alumni Committee of Saint Joseph's College Fellow's Program, presented the following new Fellows to Father Banet:

Thomas Carmody, '50; Pat Lavery, '59; Robert Lippie, '60; Jim

Madden, '64; Grace Mihalov (wife of Joe Mihalov, '57, who became a Fellow at last June's President's Dinner); Vince Agnew, '51; John Guckien, '49; Robert Hicks, '53.

Also Bernard Lareau, '59; Don Leavitt, '59; John Righeimer, '51; Al Savino, '61; Robert Vorrier, '57; William Herber, '41, and James St. Amour, '59.

Charles Vietzen followed McAvoy, by announcing that the Alumni of Saint Joseph's College had given $15,000 over the past 10 months through Annual Giving 65-66. This money included the many large and small gifts that were sent to the college in response to the direct mailing pieces designed by alumnus Tom DeMint. Vietzen also praised alumnus and trustee Ray Ziegman for his gift of stock to the college valued at a minimum of $50,000.00. He also pointed out that since the first annual President's Dinner last June 12, 47 alumni had become Fellows, and that in total the Saint Joseph's College alumni have contributed and pledged gifts amounting to more than $100,000.00.

Fr. Charles Banet, C.P.P.S., Mr. Charles Vietzen, Mr. David Condon

Father Banet was also presented with gifts to the college from the Parent's Club, and the Senior class. John Lunkes, president of the Parent's Club presented a check for $5,500, and Senior class president John O'Donnell of Chesterton, Indiana, presented the Senior class gift on behalf of the 125 of his classmates who have contributed to the gift, which is in the form of an endowment fund that upon maturity in 25 years will be valued at $60,000.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was David Condon, sports columnist for the Chicago Tribune. Both Mr. Condon and his wife, who was also at the dinner, are Fellows of the college.

In his short address, Father Banet stressed that the President's Dinner "is meant to honor Saint Joseph's College as a whole, not just the college president. And I feel this only proper, because there are a great many people who comprise the family of Saint Joseph's and are deserving of such an honor." Father also answered rumors about co-education at Saint Joseph's by saying: "The proposal regarding co-education at Saint Joseph's is currently being studied and this study is likely to continue for a while."

Father Banet also commented on some other future plans.

"Included in our plans for future growth," he said, "are a new library and renovation of the chapel and auditorium. Other possibilities would be a natatorium and enlarged athletic facilities. But it must be stressed that all these things are in the planning stage, and planning takes time."

In his introductory remarks, Condon introduced three past Presidents of Saint Joseph's: Father Raphael H. Gross, C.P.P.S. (1951-65); Father Rufus H. Esser, C.P.P.S. (1937-38) and Father Joseph B. Kenkel, C.P.P.S. (1927-37). Also present were Father Robert Siebeneck, C.P.P.S., and Father Charles Bricher, C.P.P.S., members of the Board of Control.

Trustees of the school who were introduced included Mr. Thomas Lewis (Chicago), Mr. Richard Dooley (Chicago), Mr. William Cahill (Chicago), Mr. Lee Gary (Chicago), Mr. James Bogan (Lake Forest, Ill.), Mr. G. Richard Schreiber (Glenview, Ill.), Dr. Frank Benchik (Munster, Ind.), Congressman Charles Halleck (Rensselaer) and Mr. John Schmidt (Chicago).

$60,000 25-Year Endowment Given SJC by Seniors of '66

"A class gift such as this attests to the maturity and good judgment and above all the loyalty of the fine young men of the class of 1966." The words are those of Father Charles H. Banet, President of Saint Joseph's College, after reflecting on the class gift presented to him by John O'Donnell, president of the class.

The senior gift is in the form of an endowment in which each member of the class can participate over a number of years. At this time, over ¾ of the class have participated in the gift. The entire endowment, along with interest and dividends, will be given to the college when the class of '66 returns to celebrate its Silver Anniversary Reunion. By then it will have a value of over $60,000.

Before their 25 year reunion the Senior Class Gift Committee (executors of the fund) will poll the class to determine to what purpose the money will be used.

was baptized at St. Edward's there and was a life-long member of the parish. His parents were among the first families that assisted in the founding of St. Edward's.

Many of the priests from Saint Joseph's College had the opportunity to meet and know Mr. Nolan. For the past 25 years the Precious Blood fathers have assisted with Sunday and holy day services at Lowell. Father Donald Shea, C.P.P.S., chairman of the history department at the college, has been the most recent part time assistant to Father Zurawiec, present pastor of St. Edward's.

STUFF Gets Five Awards in ICPA Newspaper Test

Saint Joseph's student newspaper, Stuff, was among 11 Indiana student newspapers to win honors in the 1966 judging contest of the Indiana Collegiate Press Association. The awards were presented on Saturday, March 19, at the Association's seventh annual convention at St. Francis College.

In all, Stuff won five awards. Sports editor Huck Quigley earned two of them — a first-place merit award for Best Sports Story (Oct. 21, 1965) and an honorable mention for Best Sports Column (Jan. 7, 1966).

Honorable mentions were also won by editor Bob Lofft for Best News Story (theft of the Bellini painting) and Jim Beier for Best Editorial on Any Non-Campus

$40,000 Donated from Lake County Estate

Saint Joseph's College has been designated the recipient of a $40,000 gift from the estate of a late Lake County man, the President's Office has announced.

The bequest is from the estate of Frank Nolan, who died March 6, 1965, following a lifetime as a farmer on land near Lowell, Indiana.

According to Father Charles H. Banet, C.P.P.S., President of Saint Joseph's, the bequest will go into an account to be used for the planned remodeling and redecorating of the college chapel.

Frank Nolan, the son of John and Otilia Nolan, was born in Lowell on January 21, 1899. He

New Placement Aid Available to Alumni

Saint Joseph's Placement and Alumni offices announce a new venture into Alumni placement on a national level, a program of which a Saint Joe grad can easily take advantage. Because of the response to an Alumni placement service a year ago the placement office has explored the possibilities of service through national affiliation with the College Placement Council in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. The result is the GRAD system (for Graduate Resume Accumulation and Distribution), a new, non-profit program in which Saint Joseph's College is represented by the Placement Council.

In operation, the Grad system is uncomplicated. If you are interested in finding new employment, communicate directly with Saint Joseph's Placement Office and if the office feels that the Grad program will be of value to you, it will furnish you with an instruction sheet and four-page resume form. You will then complete the resume and send it to the College Placement Council, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, with a $10.00 service fee.

With this service every experienced graduate can put his qualifications before employers from coast to coast with computer speed and at a nominal cost. Graduates who have gone through the frustrating business of circulating resumes to employers and then awaiting results can appreciate what the new service can offer. Employers, for their part, will be able to search the qualifications of thousands of candidates in seconds. The 21 major search items available to employers are teamed with a thesaurus of occupational skills so extensive that the council believes it the most sophisticated means of selection yet devised.

When the resumes are received at the data center of the council, each resume forwarded is analyzed in terms of present (or most recent) employment, and of previous experience. Twenty-one key factors are extracted from the information and entered into an electronic file. The original resume is micro-filmed to be retrieved almost immediately upon receipt of an employer order.

All over the country, employers are beginning to call upon the GRAD system to assist their search for executive talent. They have a thesaurus of GRAD terms which enables them to establish rapidly the best description of the position open, and may also call upon one or all of the 21 additional descriptors to further refine their search.

Use of the GRAD system is not available to just anyone, however.

Since its designers were aware that misuse of the system for "looking around" or job-hopping would detract from its value to employers, Saint Joseph's Director of Placement, Richard Scharf, must endorse each resume and attest to the fact that each applicant has received a degree.

To insure confidentiality, special provisions have been programmed into the system whereby the applicant's current employer is blocked electronically from receiving resumes. In a similar precautionary measure, employers may make their electronic search of selector factors only in terms of state of residence. Thus the geographical selector does not reveal the present employer accidentally when the applicant lives in a "one industry" town. Also, names and addresses of alumni applicants and the identity and addresses of participating employers are maintained only in the CPC data center file. All communications with the remote storage file is on an identification number basis, meaningful only to the staff administering the system.

This, then, is the basic outline of the system. Further detailed information can be obtained by writing Director of Placement, Saint Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Indiana.

We Hear From . . .

Dear Jerry,

For the first time since I graduated in 1962 I finally made up my mind to sit down and write a letter to the Alumni office. I've been meaning to do this for so long, but kept putting it off and putting it off. Consequently, I can't understand where all this time has gone. I would like to insert a bit of news for the Alumni newspaper. I had my address changed, for the record, to now read 2836 Alabama Avenue, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55416. Since leaving St. Joe's in June of '62 I have been in the Army and am now employed by Ryerson Steel Company, who have recently located me here in Minneapolis. My wife Barbara and my son Steven Michael, now three months, are finally acclimated to the land of sky blue waters.

I have been keeping in touch with a few members of our class of '62 as much as possible, but I would like to hear from some of the others who are a little further removed than the Chicago area. So, I would like to hear from a few if they have time to drop me a few lines.

I would also like at this time to request that you send to me a questionnaire form dealing with the Alumni placement. I seem to recall within the last year that a letter was sent out to the effect that our Alumni have a reference file covering job applicants and those who wish to secure Alumni as employees.

Ryerson Steel offers many benefits which I feel are rewarding and a sound inducement to St. Joe Alumni. In my two and one half years with Joseph T. Ryerson I find that there are approximately six St. Joe Alumni employed here, not necessarily in Minneapolis, but throughout the country.

Your co-operation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

John J. Lulewicz, '62, 2836 Alabama Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., 55416

Dear Jerry,

Coffee bean picker, indeed! You've got the right country but the wrong occupation, at least for the present. I didn't come 8000 miles to be a migrant worker, though I suppose I am an immigrant worker.

You asked me what I'm doing here. Well, officially I'm engaged in community development work. But that's as far as it goes. The term defines itself. An ex-volunteer who was in Columbia was engaged in much the same type of thing which he defined as "sitting around thinking up things for people to do." I'm afraid C.D. isn't that simplistic a course of action. It's all very well to say "well, tomorrow we'll put in a sewerage system or start a small industry or organize a P.T.A." But it's only the first step. I called four meetings before I got enough people to even make it worth my while to start talking. But anyone can read what C.D. is in any number of books and pamphlets.

Actually, my group was trained primarily for work in organizing school lunches with commodities from Food for Peace. This is both my main job and my reason for being here as far as anyone in the area is concerned. I am also the English teacher in the local "ginasio." On occasion I'm the choir director in the church here, and I've even been seen planting gardens, raising chickens, feeding pigs, and organizing a Mother's Club. Others of my group who have received the very same type of training are working in hospitals, laying brick, painting frescos in new churches, supervising summer camps, nursery schools, and orphanages, building schools, teaching everything from gym to Portuguese, building outhouses, and organizing mass vaccination programs. There's hardly an occupation that one of us is not engaged in. Yet we're all C.D. workers and received exactly the same training at Georgetown University. But whatever anyone of us does, it's always with the idea of teaching the community self-help, that the things they want are possible if only they'll work together to get them. And that's what I'm doing — in short.

If any more profs, or anyone else for that matter, asks about me, you may tell them I'm fine, I'm satisfied, though my stomach still hasn't adjusted to the lack of a refrigerator to raid, and that I never realized St. Joe's was so much a part of me until I found myself so distant from it.

This isn't a plea for mail, but don't hesitate to give my address to anyone. It's almost impossible for me to write the first letter to everyone, but I promise to answer any I receive.

ALUMNI DIBLIK, O'CONNOR TELL ROLES IN VIET WAR

Rudy Diblik Serves At Japan Naval Air Station

The United States has committed many men to the war in Viet Nam, but another group that receives less attention are servicemen who play supporting roles to the combat troops in Southeast Asia.

One of these is Rudy Diblik, a 1964 graduate of Saint Joseph's who is a communications watch officer in Japan at the Naval Air Station in Atsugi.

In a letter recently sent to St. Joseph's News Bureau, Rudy says, "The part I am playing in support of the Viet Nam activities makes me proud. The thought probably occurs that with a war being fought, I was lucky to be stationed in Japan. That is right. We are a support activity, though, doing our part."

Rudy says he occasionally talks to servicemen who have fought in Viet Nam. "They don't tend to talk about how many they have killed; the conversation always drifts to the constructive things they have done."

In his work, Rudy is responsible for the communications center at Atsugi base, where he guards for messages, including top secret information.

"One of the most interesting messages we get is an unclassified one to the counter-intelligence support activity," he continues. "It is concerned with activities of the Japanese Communists. In the recent past they have blamed the U.S. with that Japanese Airways crash. It seems that since the plane was made by Boeing, that proves the Japanese air industry is subservient to American 'imperialism' and the crash wouldn't have occurred if Japan didn't have U.S. forces stationed here."

It is the people of Japan who interest Rudy most. "If you want to meet the real people of Japan, then you must get out of the city and into the countryside. Here you find those that are not out to get the American dollar, are at peace with the world, and never utter a 'Yankce Go Home!'"

Ensign Diblik concludes his letter by summing up his views on the conflict:

"Didn't Chamberlain at Munich mean anything? Buying time by giving up Southeast Asia is no guarantee that a world war wouldn't start later. In the meantime, what do you do with the freedom of 15 million people... I say these things at the risk of being answered by an adamant peacenik, but if someone does not state them then there is no such thing as worthy ideals and principles."

O'Connor Da Nang Zone Vet

A firsthand report on eight months of bloody fighting in Viet Nam appeared last November in the Port Huron (Michigan) Times Herald newspaper. This was the story of Saint Joe alumnus First Lt. David P. O'Connor, Jr., U.S.M.C.

O'Connor, 24, returned home to spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David P. O'Connor, Sr., 916 Vanderburgh Place.

A member of the 3rd Battalion 9th Marine Regiment, he served as a platoon commander in the Da Nang Airfield area.

His job was patrolling and setting up ambushes in the front line.

His platoon consisted of 33 to 47 men. He was responsible for them and their patrol operations. "I can't remember the number of patrols we had, but each one was an experience I'll never forget" the Marine said.

"Every night in the base area we had 50 per cent alert. You had to be alert."

"Many times my people would sleep two hours and watch two hours."

"Sure there is death there. It's a war and it's all around you. I lost some very close friends. I thank God He gave me another chance."

"Helicopters, planes, and tanks are used over there, but it's a foot war... step by step and inch by inch."

"There's a lot of jungle over there, not too much in the area where I was, but enough to slow you down. Cane fields, woods, rice paddies and hills make up a lot of the terrain."

"Probably one of the biggest enemies is the insect — the mosquito, and leech. The leech not only is in the water, but also in the grass."

"Right now it's the monsoon season and for weeks at a time it will continue to rain."

"The temperature is another factor. The lowest it usually gets is about 75 degrees and often it's a sweltering 120 degrees."

"I have learned a great deal about life and my fellow man — you can't imagine how short life is until you see your people covered with blood lying lifeless on the ground."

"Many have died, but a lot of VC's are dead too."

"I guess the first thing I heard when I got back was, how is the morale?"

"Well, it's good. There aren't any problems on that score."

"Sure, we heard about the card burners and the demonstrations. But we also hear from the majority of Americans who are behind us."

"We got thousands of letters from people and students in colleges and universities all over the states telling us of their support."

"During the time when the word came about some of the card burners, a fellow I knew received a letter from an elderly lady."

"The woman wrote that her son had been killed in Korea and she had lost her husband during World War II. She said she knew we had a job to do and was behind us all the way."

"Mail to the fighting man is a big thing, and as long as he keeps getting it he will be OK."

"The medical program inaugurated by the U.S. in South Viet Nam is a major morale builder for the Vietnamese. I remember when we first got there in April the people were very shy, kind of scared to come to us for help."

"Since then the 2nd Battalion 3rd Marines has established a medical aid station and now we have from 200 to 300 persons seeking aid every day."

"It's another world over there, and unless you have been there you can't imagine it — believe me the first thing I wanted to do when I got back to the States was kiss the ground," the Marine said.

Lt. O'Connor enlisted in the Marines when he graduated from college, and took his basic training at Quantico, Virginia.

"Marine training is the best training in the world and believe me I used every bit of training I received, especially the guerrilla training. I only wish that I would have listened a little harder."

O'Connor will complete his tour with the Marines in December, 1966. He says that he may stay in the Corps, but at present has no immediate plans.

College to Remodel Auditorium This Year

Father Charles H. Banet, C.P.P.S., President of Saint Joseph's College, has announced that the college will remodel the auditorium this summer.

The project is scheduled to start at the end of the present term

Two $1,000 Grants From ALCOA, Gulf Presented to SJC

The ALCOA foundation, through the Rea Magnet Corporation of Fort Wayne, and the Gulf Oil Corporation have each given Saint Joseph's grants of $1,000. The ALCOA gift is one of the Foundation's grants to 12 independent Indiana colleges, members of the Associated Colleges of Indiana, while the Gulf grant is part of the corporation's Aid - To - Education Program.

Father Paul R. White, C.P.P.S., Executive Assistant to the President, accepted the check on behalf of Saint Joseph's from Robert B. Kempton, General Manager of Industrial Relations at the Fort Wayne firm and Richard Cantwell, Personnel Manager of the firm.

Gulf's presentation was one of 221 such awards, totalling $221,000, that Gulf will distribute this year as direct, unrestricted grants to those universities and colleges under its aid program. It is also the second such gift Saint Joseph's has received from Gulf within a year.

Father White also accepted this gift, presented by Jim Stockton, Area Sales Manager for the Gulf Corporation.

and is to be completed by September: the estimated cost is $40,000.

Present plans call for all the seating in the auditorium to be replaced by padded seats; this includes both main floor and the balcony area. Both the stage curtains and window drapes are to be replaced along with the light fixtures on the walls. The auditorium will be repainted and possibly some wood panelling will be done on the main floor.

The project to renovate the college auditorium was proposed last semester by the Students Projects Association, a campus volunteer organization. Last January SPA submitted a report to the Development Committee of Saint Joseph's, outlining a remodeling plan. It was proposed that the project be done by volunteer student workers.

At that time the Development Committee, on Father Banet's suggestion, sent the report to an interior decorator. If the interior decorator approved the plan and thought it could be done by students, the Administration said that it would approve the project and allow SPA to start.

The original project called for a $10,000 remodeling job, but since the interior decorator's report has been received, the price of the project has grown another $30,000. Since much more will be done on the auditorium than the original report called for, it was decided that student volunteer labor would not be practical, hence the project will be done by an outside company.

Passage of the project was easily secured and was also approved by the Board of Control.

'41 Grad Catholic Man-of-the-Year

Alumnus Joseph G. Leugers, '41, a leader in religious, youth, and civic affairs, has been selected by Our Lady of Mercy Council 3737, Springfield, Ohio, for the Catholic Man-of-the-Year award. He is a member of Springfield's St. Mary's parish and is budget administrator at the headquarters of Air Force Logistics Command, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

A native of Maria Stein, Mercer Co., Ohio, Mr. Leugers was valedictorian of his class at St. John's high school there. He graduated Magna Cum Laude from Saint Joseph's in 1941, and began working at Wright-Patterson. Except for a period of four years in the service during World War II, he has been employed at the air force base. During high school and college days he was one of the better hitting pitchers, and played baseball regularly on many teams until three years ago.

He organized the Springfield Parochial Baseball league in 1955 and has been president of the league since that time. He is athletic director at St. Mary's and has served as program chairman for athletic banquets and recognition events. He is responsible for a program to provide athletic equipment for all the students in the parish school.

In addition, he has served as chairman for an annual baseball league picnic, an event attracting more than 200 youths and adults. He is coach and manager of the Enon Lions softball team for junior girls and is former coach of an Enon Little League team. He is program chairman of a Boy Scout troop which he organized. He is also former Knights of Columbus youth activity chairman.

SJC and "Woods" Glee Clubs Entertain Over Easter Recess

Singing Seventeen

Over the Easter holiday the combined glee clubs of Saint Joseph's College and St. Mary-of-the-Woods women's college performed before capacity audiences on a concert tour through Indiana, Ohio, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Washington, D.C.

Directed by Dr. John B. Egan of Saint Joseph's and Sister Marie Brendan, S.P., of St. Mary-of-the-Woods, the SJC "Singing Seventeen" and the Madrigal Singers presented Dr. Egan's "An American Requiem," folk songs, as well as medleys from "Porgy and Bess" and "Brigadoon" in combined performances.

The tour began on April 10 when the clubs traveled from "the Woods" to Indianapolis for the first concert. Later that evening they sang in Minster, Ohio.

Independence, Ohio; Springfield, Massachusetts; Scotch Plains, New Jersey, and Washington, D.C. filled out the itinerary of performances. Free time was spent at Kissing Bridge Ski Lodge in Buffalo, New York, Boston, Massachusetts, and in New York City.

Among the alumni, the clubs met Jim Heiman, Jerry Langner, John Madden, Rich White, George Carse, Ed Emery, Emil Labbe, and Buck Lavender on their swing through the East.

"American Requiem" Choral Work Written by Dr. Egan Honors JFK

For the 1966 Indiana Catholic College Choral Festival here last March 27, Dr. John Egan of Saint Joseph's College composed "An American Requiem" dedicated to the participating choruses and in memory of the late President Kennedy.

The Requiem itself is not a Mass but rather a compilation of sacred texts appropriate to the spirit of a Requiem.

Egan's Requiem begins with two verses in English of the "Dies Irae" which was the Latin Sequence in Masses for the Dead.

After the introduction there is a duet for soprano and mezzo-soprano based on the third chapter of the Book of Ecclesiastes, Kennedy's favorite Scriptural passage. The chorus concludes with the final two verses from the fifth chapter of the same book which are most applicable to the short life of the late President.

After a choral interlude using three more verses of the Dies Irae, the major portion of the work begins. It is a setting of the Beatitudes in a recent British translation.

The work concludes with a choral setting of the "In Paradisum," which was the chant employed for accompanying the corpse to the place of interment.

The Requiem is Dr. Egan's longest and most ambitious compositional undertaking. It was performed for the first time March 27 here, and again when the Singing Seventeen from Saint Joseph's College toured the Eastern cities with the Madrigal Singers of Saint Mary of the Woods College during Easter vacation.

ICC Athletic Heads Elect Scharf Pres.

Mr. Richard F. Scharf, Chairman of the Physical Education Department and Director of Athletics at Saint Joseph's, has been elected the 1966-67 President of Athletic Directors in the Indiana Collegiate Conference.

The election took place at a meeting of the ICC in Indianapolis. Mr. Scharf succeeds Indiana State's John L. Longfellow.

Mr. Scharf is a graduate of Saint Joseph's and in 1943 he became head football coach at his alma mater. To quote a 1943 issue of STUFF: "That slim, quiet fellow, Dick Scharf, athletic coach in the academy since the fall of 1940, assistant coach in the college under Joe Dienhart, and a few years ago one of the finest athletes to wear the Cardinal and Purple at Saint Joseph's College, now has full charge of all coaching in both the college and academy."

Besides his athletic duties, Mr. Scharf is also director of Saint Joseph's Placement Office.

Profs Kaiser, Kenkel, Lesinsky, to Retire At School Year End

Three faculty members who will retire at the close of the 1965-66 school year were honored Monday, May 2, at a faculty dinner. Retiring are: Father Edwin G. Kaiser, C.P.P.S., professor of theology; Father Joseph B. Kenkel, C.P.P.S., professor of economics, and Adam P. Lesinsky, associate professor of music.

Father Kaiser, a native of Cedar Grove, Ind., joined Saint Joseph's staff in 1944. After completing his high school education here in 1913, he studied for two years at the College, and completed his college education at Saint Charles Seminary in 1917. He studied in Rome until 1924, when he returned to Saint Charles Seminary and taught theology and philosophy until 1938. Then, in 1944, he was assigned to Saint Joseph's. Father Kaiser has also

Puma's Broussard Makes Catholic All-America Team

Sophomore sensation Ken Broussard of Saint Joseph's, the highest-scoring second-year man in the school's basketball history, has been named to a first-team berth on the small college all-American team announced by The Tablet, a Catholic newspaper published in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The 14th annual all-American selections were made for The Tablet by coaches from Catholic universities and colleges through the United States.

It was the leading post-season honor for Broussard, who has already gained second-team spots on the Indiana Collegiate Conference honor squad and a second-team rating on Ball State University's all-opponent team.

One previous Saint Joe performer, the incomparable Bobby Williams won similar honors in 1959 and 1960, as a capstone to his fabulous career (1957-60), when The Tablet awarded him player of the year honors.

Puma Diamondmen 12-7

One of Five — Wayne Buttrick scores Saint Joseph's first run in game at Collegeville, April 25th. The Pumas went on to capture this contest, 5-4, in a 12 inning marathon. Valparaiso catcher Joe Wetzel awaits late throw.

New head baseball coach Richard Pawlow, of East St. Louis, Illinois, got the Pumas off to a brighter start than Saint Joe fans saw last year, winning the first six contests. As the campaign progressed, however, the Saints ran into error trouble, and now stand 12-7, with a 4-4 ICC mark.

Saint Joe has out-hit and out-pitched the opposition, batting .275 as a team, as against the opposition's .233, while the mound-men's combined earned run average is 3.84 compared to their foes' 5.16.

Errors have made the difference between a fair season and a good one, and the statistics bear this out. The Puma defense has mis-cued 55 times, while the opponents have mishandled 33. This gives the Pumas a .922 fielding average while their antagonists average .950.

Team batting leaders are short-stop Tom Crowley, hitting .411 followed by Mark Woolwine, outfielder, with .378. Pitcher James O'Loughlin leads the staff with a 5-2 record and a 3.21 ERA.

Coach Pawlow joined Saint Joseph's coaching staff last May. In addition to his diamond job, he coaches freshman basketball and assists head football coach Jim Arneberg.

He entered the University of Illinois on a baseball scholarship and received his Bachelors in physical education from U of I in 1963.

For the next two years he was graduate assistant at Southern Illinois U. in Carbondale, Illinois, where he received his Masters degree in physical education.

While at Southern Illinois, he taught various athletics and coached freshman baseball. He also played in the San Francisco Giants' organization for seven years.

written numerous books, translations, and articles.

Father Kenkel, a native of Newport, Ohio, entered Saint Joseph's in 1911 for two years of undergraduate work. He then studied at Saint Charles Seminary, and the Catholic University of America, where he earned a Ph.D. in economics in 1922.

He was assigned to Saint Joseph's in 1922 as an instructor in economics, history and English, and three years later he specialized in economics. He served as college President from 1927 to 1937.

Lesinsky, whose home town is Old Forge, Pa., has served as bard director at Saint Joseph's since 1958, where he has been a key figure in the college's rapidly expanding concert series. He holds three degrees, starting with a bachelor's in music in 1919 at Valparaiso University. He received an A.B. degree in education at Valparaiso in 1924 and earned a master of music degree from the American Conservatory of Music (Chicago) in 1944.
